

What Title IX Means (1:00)

What does the 50th anniversary of Title IX mean? It means I'm valued, I'm empowered, I can do anything. It means I'll pave the way for every girl who plays high school sports in the future, just like every female student, coach, official and administrator blazed the trail for me because every student deserves the opportunity to play. Encourage girls you know to participate in South Dakota high school sports.

This message presented by the SDHSAA and the South Dakota Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association.
