

The Humanity Of High School Sports (0:30)

School sports are played by humans, coached by humans and officiated by humans. So the next time you're sitting in the stands at a school athletic event, please remember this and maintain your humanity, especially when it comes to judging and critiquing athletes, coaches and officials. Please show your fellow humans some respect. They'll appreciate your empathy.

This message, presented by the SDHSAA and the South Dakota Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association.