

Leadership You Can Believe In (:60)

Looking for future leaders we can trust and believe in? Look no further than the high school student-athletes right here in South Dakota. High school sports teach young people how to be effective leaders. It begins by making their grades and being on-time for practice. It includes learning to listen, following directions, accepting responsibility, and being a good role model. It's about respect for officials, opponents, the rules and each other.

The result, it transcends sports, it gives us hope for the future. High school sports, their so much more than just a game. This message presented by the South Dakota High School Activities Association and the South Dakota Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association.